The CGC Annual Meeting is the preeminent gathering for laboratorians, clinicians, and researchers with a shared interest in early adoption, performance, and interpretation of leading-edge technology for cancer and constitutional genomics. The collegiality of the Cancer Genomics Consortium provides a unique educational opportunity to advance clinical diagnostics using genomic technologies (FISH, microarray, massively parallel sequencing...etc.) and to improve the data processing that accompanies these technologies. We invite you to participate in 2025.

In 2024, the CGC hosted its third hybrid meeting with more than 300 participants representing 13 countries. In the summer of 2025, we will continue the hybrid (in-person + virtual) format that will feature in-person platform presentations, workshops, networking sessions, an exhibit hall, poster sessions, round table discussions, the science café, and other interactive opportunities with our industry supporters. We will also provide virtual content streaming, live virtual Q&A, and CME and PACE credit for all attendees.

Anticipated Program Highlights in 2025:

- Clinical applications of microarray, genome mapping, and genome sequencing technologies
- Clinical interpretation of sequence variants and copy number abnormalities data
- Analysis pipelines, bioinformatics, databases, and data sharing for publications
- Invited presentations from leading clinical laboratory directors, geneticists, oncologists, pathologists, and bioinformaticians
- Workshops to showcase challenging/teaching cases
- Improving equity in access to genomic testing

Highlights for Exhibitors in 2025:

- Science Café
- Small private meeting space rental available
- Additional options, including multiple support options for the CGC Social

Fees to support CGC 2025 will not increase. We encourage you to submit your registration early to ensure your company's participation. If you have questions, please e-mail Karla Gay. Additional details can be found on the next page.

Finally, if you want to serve as a founding member of the CGC Corporate Council, please contact us. We will be launching the program at the 2024 meeting.

Sincerely,
